

Approved For Release 1999/09/17

Powers's Translator Due At Wynne Trial

Moscow, May 6 (AP)—The courtroom interpreter of Francis Gary Powers, U-2 pilot, will translate at the espionage trial of Greville Wynne, British business man, opening tomorrow, Soviet sources reported today.

Boris Beletsky, news editor of Moscow radio's English-language broadcasts, did a running translation of the Powers trial proceedings in August, 1960, and Russian informants said he had taken a leave of absence from his radio job for the Wynne trial.

STATINTL